Make Opening With Ratchet Drill and Take Men Out

COMMANDER COOKE
LAST MAN TO LEAVE

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The plight of the disabled submarine, S-5 whose crew of 30 men was rescued early today after being submerged for hours, was first learned by the steamship Alanthous which accidentally discovered the submarine off the Delaware Capes yesterday afternoon with 30 feet of her bow protruding above the water. Captain E. O. Swinson of the steamship General George W. Goethals, reported upon his arrival at Hoboken to-night.

The crew of the submarine, who their lives, he said, to the quick work of chief engineer, W. R. Grace of the General Goethals, and his assistant, R. A. Williams.

The imprisoned men, Captain Swinson said, had cut a small hole thru the hull and had struck thru a pole on which was flying an undershirt. The Alanthous was unable to rescue the crew as she had no apparatus for cutting thru the submarine's hull. The crew of the Alanthous, however, began pumping air thru the small hole made by the undersea craft's crew.

Cut Hole With Ratchet Drill
"The Alanthous had a radio outfit but no operator, so I sent one of our radio men over after we received her distress signal about 5:20 p. m. By 6 o'clock, Grace, McWilliams and four other men were standing on the submarine's hull, drilling for all they were worth with only one small hand ratchet drill.

"At 9:15 there were a number of holes drilled thru and the men were greatly revived. Grace and McWilliams were taking turns with the hand drill and finally at 1:20 a. m., after hours of the hardest kind of work a hole was cut thru large enough for the men to escape.

"The first man was taken out at 1:35, and by 2:45 the last man, Lieutenant Commander Charles M. Cooke, Jr., climbed thru the hole.

"The men from the submarine revived quickly after being put aboard the Alanthous where they were given hot soup and put to bed. Many were bleeding at the mouth and nose, their faces were swollen and their eyes bloodshot, but they still had plenty of spirit."

The submarine crew was later transferred to the battleship Ohio and the Alanthous steamed towards Norfolk.

MINERS ASK WILSON TO REOPEN WAGE AWARD CONTRACT

Difference in Wage of Bituminous Miners Cause of Trouble

OFFICIALS ISSUED NO
STRIKE ORDER

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 3.—Anthracite mine workers thru their union officers today appealed to President Wilson to reopen the wage contract signed yesterday for the purpose of remedying the "inequalities" of the award recently approved by President Wilson.

It is estimated that about one hundred thousand workers thru the Anthracite regions have quit work because it is said they are not satisfied with the coal commission's award which gave the Anthracite men increases ranging from 17 to 25 per cent whereas the miners asked for a uniform advance of about 27 per cent for the several classes of workers.

The telegram to the president says in part:

"The minimum rate in the Anthracite region under the award is four dollars and twenty cents per day and skilled company miners approximately five dollars and fifty cents, and the anthracite contract miners did receive approximately 13 per cent less than the bituminous miners received from the bituminous coal commission, therefore the differentials being widened to a greater extent than before are contributing factors to the present state of affairs."

So far as can be learned the general scale committee took no action today to have the workers return to work. It was said the question of getting the men back would be left to local officers in the various mining communities. The union has issued no strike order and union leaders declare the action of most of the men in staying away from the mines was done without any authorization from the organization.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT BY GOVERNMENT IN NEW SHIPPING ACT

Belief it Has Gone to
White House for
Decision

AMERICA HAS
NOTHING TO FEAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Exploration at midnight tonight of the 90 day period allowed the President by the new merchant marine act to give notice of the intention of the United States to revoke certain clauses of commercial treaties brought no official announcement from the executive department of the government.

State department officials whose study of commercial treaties to which the United States is a signatory has revealed that about 25 such pacts contravene the merchant marine act, declined absolutely to say whether any decision had been reached on any action taken.

Intimation came from one high official, however, that the matter had gone to the white house. Clauses of existing treaties which must be revoked are those which in the words of the act "restrict the right of the United States to impose discriminating customs duties on imports; entering the United States and which also restrict the right of the United States to impose discriminating tonnage dues on foreign vessels and on vessels of the United States entering the United States."

Have Nothing to Fear
Secretary of Commerce Alexander expressed the view today that American foreign trade would have nothing to fear even should the president give this revocation notice. Opposition to this section of the act, as well as to the entire merchant marine law, he said, comes from foreign interests who seek to thwart the United States in its policy of developing a permanent merchant marine.

"Until recently 92 per cent of our commerce was carried in foreign bottoms," he added. "The nations favored the delivery was about $300,000,000 a year. They do not wish to see us transport our goods in our own ships and are opposing even a merchant marine capable of carrying half of our commerce."

EXPECT TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

Chief Justice Snythe of the District of Columbia court of appeals denied the petition of suffrage opponents as represented in the American Constitutional League for certification of the case to the United States supreme court without waiting for a decision by the appellate tribunal.

Counsel for the anti-suffragists, however, have not abandoned hope of getting the case into the highest court in the land before election day and when the court of appeals convenes October 4th will make a motion to advance the case on the calendar and probably request that their contention be overruled in order that they may appeal at once to the United States supreme court.

Pressure Brought to Bear For Release of
MacSwiney

WANT COLBY TO
DEMAND RELEASE

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney showed no radical change tonight altho the patient was said gradually to be growing weaker. Sean MacSwiney, his brother, remained at the prison tonight.

"The Gaelic league announced tonight that for the first time during his hunger strike, the lord mayor had complained to his wife of feeling very tired. The prisoner was unable to converse with his relatives. He was still quite conscious, however, and his mind was as clear and his will as strong as ever."

Appeal by Labor Leaders
Labor leaders this morning addressed an appeal to Premier Lloyd George asking the lord mayor's release. The message said in part:

"We are convinced that the government's treatment of the lord mayor has already seriously jeopardized the hope of an early settlement of the Irish question on a basis of conciliation, and appeasement, and has stained the name of Great Britain with dishonor in the eyes of the civilized world. By its persecution in prison of the lord mayor of Cork, the government has outraged public sentiment everywhere, and his death will bring about a terrible explosion of anger which will only lead to further bloodshed in Ireland."

Other Appeals Made
Another appeal to the premier from the executive committee of the Society of Friends, says: "In the name of our common Master, have faith and seize this opportunity to release the lord mayor of Cork."

The anti-ratificationists, however, were jubilant because they interpreted the sending of the statement of the house's action to Secretary Colby as meaning that this record would become a part of the evidence that is to be used in the courts to overthrow the validity of the suffrage amendment's ratification by Tennessee.

COX IN WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN THRU THE STATE OF MICHIGAN

Refers to Newberry Election
Case in His Addresses

EXTOLLS LEAGUE
OF NATIONS

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 3.—Governor Cox today made a whirlwind rush into his western campaign, making a dozen speeches thruout Michigan renewing his attack on Republican campaign contributions and peace policies.

Charges of "a plot to buy the presidency" were reiterated by the Democratic presidential candidate in virtually every address of an itinerary which kept him on the rostrum of the rear platform of his private car from before breakfast until late tonight. His principal address was at Lansing, the state capital and here, with his closing address tonight at Kalamazoo. He also made numerous rear platform speeches.

Gives Local Flavor
Local flavor was given by the governor to his addresses by constant reference to the election fraud case of Senator Newberry, Republican of Michigan. The candidate declared that an attempt was being made by the Republican contributions to "Newberryize the nation."

As proof of his charges the governor to a large crowd in the state capitol lawn at Lansing read from copies of the Republican treasury's "Official Bulletin" presented in his Pittsburgh address and also before the senate investigating commission and an alleged list of subscriptions to the Republican handbook of William Barnes, Jr., of New York. The latter, he said, comprised representatives of big business almost everywhere in New York.

Read From List of Names.
Reading from a list of prominent men named in the subscription list Governor Cox said:

"These men are NOT making contributions to my fund. And there are three very definite reasons. First, they haven't been asked; second, they wouldn't be permitted to, and third, they probably wouldn't if they had the chance, because they don't approve of my policies."

Commenting on names on corrected list of which he characterized as the "Boss Barnes list" Governor Cox said corporate contributions were illegal. He also promised to "keep his eye" on the senate committee reciting that it did service before the Republican convention and now that the opportunity to prevent, purchase or the presidency.

In his comment on Article X of the league of nations Governor Cox said:

"Now in the past, what has made war? Lust for territory; article X says that the boundary is the boundary line for weak nations and strong nations alike, and that the powers of the earth must keep for years."

"Every imperialist of Europe is against the league but there are not many imperialists in Europe as there were once, thank God."

"There is no offense against Article X unless the aggressor comes from over the boundary line and then the offense will be considered by the council. It says the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

The governor had previously read the full text of Article X.

Sen. Harding Talks at Mount Gilead Home
Coming

CONFERS WITH
POLITICAL LEADERS

MARION, O., Sept. 3.—Hope that the United States will take the lead to "outlaw war" and secure the permanent peace of the world was voiced by Senator Harding today in a speech at a homecoming celebration at Mount Gilead, Ohio, a country town in his native county.

Addressing a crowd from a street booth, the Republican nominee declared he was willing to do anything short of surrendering the nation's independence to attain world concord. He maintained that acceptance of the league of nations as it was written, however, would involve a sacrifice of peace which no friend of peace should advocate.

The speech was the second delivered by Senator Harding today, his position in support of cooperative agreements for farmers having been outlined a few hours before in a short talk here to a committee of the national board of farm organizations representing thousands of farmers thruout the country.

Co-operative marketing, he said, would be the first practical step that could be taken to reduce the cost of living.

The submarine crew was later transferred to the battleship Ohio and the Alanthous steamed towards Norfolk.

MINERS ASK WILSON TO REOPEN WAGE AWARD CONTRACT

Difference in Wage of Bituminous Miners Cause of Trouble

OFFICIALS ISSUED NO
STRIKE ORDER

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 3.—Anthracite mine workers thru their union officers today appealed to President Wilson to reopen the wage contract signed yesterday for the purpose of remedying the "inequalities" of the award recently approved by President Wilson.

It is estimated that about one hundred thousand workers thru-out the Anthracite regions have quit work because it is said they are not satisfied with the coal commission's award which gave the Anthracite men increases ranging from 17 to 25 per cent whereas the miners asked for a uniform advance of about 27 per cent for the several classes of workers.

The telegram to the president says in part:

"The minimum rate in the Anthracite region under the award is four dollars and twenty cents per day and skilled common miners approximately five dollars and fifty cents, and the anthracite contract miners did receive approximately 13 per cent less than the bituminous miners received from the bituminous coal commission, therefore the differentials being widened to a greater extent than before are contributing factors to the present state of affairs."

So far as can be learned the general scale committee took no action today to have the workers return to work. It was said the question of getting the men back would be left to local officers in the various mining communities. The union has issued no strike order and union leaders declare the action of most of the men in staying away from the mines was done without any authorization from the organization.

The convention conversed extensive program of Americanization outlined and decided to urge the "passage of better laws for the control of the advocates of forceful revolution who are now in our midst."

After going on record as "condemning the war record of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago," and denouncing the "insulting attack on United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman upon the American Legion," the convention also adopted resolutions favoring universal military training, an extensive aviation program by the government, a state boxing bill and recommended making armistice day a national holiday.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT BY GOVERNMENT IN NEW SHIPPING ACT

Belief it Has Gone to
White House for
Decision

AMERICA HAS
NOTHING TO FEAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Expiration at midnight tonight of the 90 day period allowed the President by the new merchant marine act to give notice of the intention of the United States to revoke certain clauses of commercial treaties brought no official announcement from the executive department of the government.

State department officials whose study of commercial treaties to which the United States is a signatory has revealed that about 25 such pacts contravene the merchant marine act, declined absolutely to say whether any decision had been reached on any action taken.

Information came from one high official, however, that the matter had gone to the white house. Clauses of existing treaties which must be revoked are those which in the words of the act "restrict the right of the United States to impose discriminatory customs duties on imports; entering the United States and which also restrict the right of the United States to impose discriminatory tonnage dues on foreign vessels and on vessels of the United States entering the United States."

Have Nothing to Fear

Secretary of Commerce Alexander expressed the view today that American foreign trade would have nothing to fear even should the president give the revocation notices. Opposition to this section of the act, as well as to the entire merchant marine law, he said, comes from foreign interests who seek to thwart the United States in its policy of developing a permanent merchant marine.

"Until recently 92 per cent of our commerce was carried in foreign bottoms," he added. "Other nations favored the delivery of our goods to them and the bill was about $300,000,000 a year. They do not wish to see us transport our goods in our own ships and are opposing even a merchant marine capable of carrying half of our commerce."

NAVAL VETERAN DIES IN FLORIDA

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The death of Henry Walton Grinnell, a naval veteran of the Civil and Spanish wars who became an admiral in the Imperial Japanese navy, became known to relatives in this city today. His work in the training of seamen was said to have been largely responsible for the development of the Japanese navy which turned back the Russian fleet.

Born in New Bedford, 34 years ago of a sea-going family, Grinnell fought with Farragut at New Orleans, and received honorable mention for running the Confederate lines with dispatches. He left the navy as a lieutenant at the close of the Civil war, and went to Japan, serving throughout the China-Japanese war. He was made a rear admiral of the new Japanese navy.

At the conclusion of the Spanish-American war he volunteered for service in the United States navy, and became lieutenant on the battleship Iowa.

STATE TREASURER RESIGNS OFFICE

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Fred J. Burrell tonight announced his resignation as state treasurer and in a statement asked his "friends and well wishers" not to vote for his re-nomination in the state primaries next Tuesday. His action followed the first public hearing today by a legislative committee appointed by Governor Coolidge to investigate Burrell's conduct in office.

Several weeks ago it became known that Burrell had solicited advertising for an agency which he conducted from banks in which state money was deposited and with the crash of the financial dealings of Charles Ponzi and the consequent closing of the Hanover Trust Company it was learned that the state had $125,000 on deposit in this bank.

JUSTICE BAILEY GIVES SUFFRAGE OPPONENTS SETBACK

Denies Injunction on Secretary of State Colby

EXPECT TO KEEP ON FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Opponents of woman suffrage received a temporary setback in their efforts to expedite appeals from the decision of Justice Bailey of the District of Columbia supreme court refusing an injunction to prevent Secretary of State Colby from promulgating the suffrage amendment.

Chief Justice Snythe of the District of Columbia court of appeals denied the petition of suffrage opponents as represented in the American Constitutional League for certification of the case to the United States supreme court without waiting for a decision by the appellate tribunal.

Counsel for the anti-suffragists, however, have not abandoned hope of getting the case into the highest court in the land before election day and when the court of appeals convenes October 4th will make a motion to advance the case on the calendar and probably request that their contention be overruled in order that they may appeal at once to the United States supreme court.

ering Newspaper Editors During War—Nearly Million and Half for Propaganda in Foreign Countries.

The next cost to the government was considerably lower than this because of receipts from the sale of moving picture films and was fixed by E. K. Ellsworth, the liquidating officer at $4,954,200.

The principal items of expenditure shown by the report included $1,448,000 for propaganda work in foreign countries; $1,250,000 for salaries; $1,435,000 for printing; and $583,000 for telegraph and cable service.

PLAN ATTACK ON AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

Gompers Says Should be Made An Issue of Campaign

REGARDS IT AS MOST SERIOUS QUESTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—An attack upon a proposed amendment to the Nebraska state constitution which would authorize the setting up of an industrial commission to pass upon controversies between employers and employees was made today by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. The proposal is to be voted upon in Nebraska, Sept. 21.

"The matter is of such importance that the executive council has decided it should be made a leading issue in the non-partisan political campaign in the state of Nebraska," Mr. Gompers said.

"This is a most serious question that has arisen in your state. The crusade of the enemies of labor should be anticipated by the workers by a most vigorous campaign."

"Permit me to suggest that the state federation of labor should begin an intensive campaign to acquaint the people of Nebraska with the vicious purposes hidden in the proposed constitutional amendment."

AMERICAN FIRMS MAY PURCHASE GERMAN DYES

Textile Alliance Will be Distributed for Government—Only Purchase
Those Which are Not Produced in the United States.

MANY APPEALS BEING MADE TO PREMIER GEORGE

Pressure Brought to Bear For Release of
MacSwiney

WANT COLBY TO
DEMAND RELEASE

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney showed no radical change tonight although the patient was said gradually to be growing weaker. Sean MacSwiney, his brother, remained at the prison tonight.

"The Gaelic league announced tonight that for the first time during his hunger strike, the lord mayor had complained to his wife of feeling very tired. The prisoner was unable to converse with his relatives. He was still quite conscious, however, and his mind was as clear and his will as strong as ever."

Appeal by Labor Leaders
Labor leaders this morning addressed an appeal to Premier Lloyd George, asking the lord mayor's release. The message was in part:

"We are convinced that the government's treatment of the lord mayor has already seriously jeopardized the hope of an early settlement of the Irish question on a basis of conciliation, and appeasement, and has stained the name of Great Britain with dishonor in the eyes of the civilized world. By its persecution in prison of the lord mayor of Cork, the government has outraged public sentiment everywhere, and his death will bring about a terrible explosion of anger which will only lead to further bloodshed in Ireland."

Other Appeals Made
Another appeal to the premier from the executive committee of the Society of Friends, says:

"In the name of our common Master, have faith and seize this opportunity to release the lord mayor of Cork."

The Irish conciliation committee representing both parties in parliament have sent a similar appeal to the premier, while the London branch of the Irish dominion league is seeking to enlist the support of Archbishop of Canterbury in mediation with the government.

New York, Sept. 3.—A resolution asking Secretary of State Colby to demand the release of MacSwiney was adopted tonight by the Central Federation of Labor Unions. Announcement also was made that union warehouse workers will refuse to handle British lills until the lord mayor is released.

COPY OF JOURNAL ON WAY TO COLBY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 3.—At the request of the house of representatives Governor Roberts late tonight forwarded to Secretary of State Colby a certified copy of the Journal of that body of last Tuesday when an attempt was made to rescind its previous action in ratifying the federal suffrage amendment.

Transmission of the Journal to Washington was not regarded tonight by the suffragists as affecting the validity of the proclamation previously issued by Secretary Colby of the ratification of the 19th amendment.

The anti-ratificationists, however, were jubilant because they interpreted the sending of the statement of the house's action to Washington as meaning that this record would become a part of the evidence that is to be used in the courts to overthrow the validity of the suffrage amendment's ratification by Tennessee.

SOVIET SPIES STOP REVOLUTION PLOTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Swarms of soviet spies who Russia is infested make impossible any revolution against the Bolsheviks at the present time, advices received today in official circles here state.

Revolt against the Bolsheviks, the advices said, only is possible if provoked and supported by outside influences as the efficiency of the secret police in Russia is such as to "nip in the bud" all plots and conspiracies.

The dispatches add that the fear of the extraordinary commission also has been a deterrent factor of powerful influence among the dissatisfied Russian population.

COX IN WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN THRU THE STATE OF MICHIGAN

Refers to Newberry Election
Case in His Addresses

EXTOLLS LEAGUE
OF NATIONS

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 3.—Governor Cox today made a whirlwind rush into his western campaign, making a dozen speeches thruout Michigan denouncing his attack on Republican campaign contributions and peace policies.

Charges of "a plot to buy the presidency" were reiterated by the Democratic presidential candidate in virtually every address of an itinerary which kept him on the rostrum of the rear platform of his private car from before breakfast until late tonight. His principal address was at Lansing, the state capital and here, with his closing address tonight at Kalamazoo. He also made numerous rear platform speeches.

Gives Local Flavor.
Local flavor was given by the governor to his addresses by constant reference to the election fraud case of Senator Newberry, Republican of Michigan. The candidate declared that an attempt was being made by the Republican contributions to "Newberryize the nation."

As proof of his charges the governor to a large crowd on the state capitol lawn at Lansing read from copies of the Republican treasury's "Official Bulletin" presented at his Pittsburgh address and also before the senate investigating commission and an alleged list of subscriptions to the Republican handbook of William Barnes, Jr., of New York. The latter, he said, comprised representatives of big business almost everywhere in New York.

Read From List of Names.
Reading from a list of prominent men named in the subscription list Governor Cox added:

"These men are NOT making contributions to my fund. And there are three very definite reasons. First, they haven't been asked; second, they wouldn't be permitted to, and third, they probably wouldn't if they had the chance, because they don't approve of my policies."

Commenting on names on corporations of which he characterized as the "Boss Barnes list" Governor Cox said corporate contributions were illegal. He also promised to "keep his eye" on the senate committee reciting that it did service before the Republican convention and now that the opportunity to prevent, purchase of the presidency.

Extolls League of Nations.
The league of nations was extolled by the governor in his speech here.

In his comment on Article X of the league of nations Governor Cox said:

"Now in the past, what has made war? Lust for territory; and article X says that the boundary is the boundary line for weak nations and strong nations alike and that the powers of the earth must keep for years."

"Every imperialist of Europe is against the league but there are so many imperialists in Europe as there were, thank God."

"There is no offense against Article X unless the aggressor comes from over the boundary line and then the offense will be considered by the council. It says the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

The governor had previously read the full text of Article X.

PROTEST TEACHING GERMAN LANGUAGE

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Sept. 3.—Election of Lieutenant Colonel Hanford MacNider of Mason City as commander of the Iowa State Branch of the American Legion; selection of Spirit Lake as the 1921 convention city and the passage of resolutions protesting against military training and protesting against the teaching of German in the public schools below the eighth grade were the outstanding features of the final session of the convention here this afternoon.

Sen. Harding Talks at

CONFERS WITH
POLITICAL LEADERS

MARION, O., Sept. 3.—Hope that the United States will take the lead to "outlaw war" and secure the permanent peace of the world was voiced by Senator Harding today in a speech at a homecoming celebration at Mount Gilead, Ohio, a country town in his native county.

Addressing a crowd from a street booth, the Republican nominee declared he was willing to do anything short of surrendering the nation's independence to attain world concord. He maintained that acceptance of the league of nations as it was written, however, would involve a sacrifice of nationality which no friend of peace should advocate.

The speech was the second delivered by Senator Harding today, his position in support of cooperative agreements for farmers having been outlined a few hours before in a short talk here to a committee of the national board of farm organizations representing thousands of farmers thruout the country.

Co-operative marketing, he said, would be the first practical step that could be taken to reduce the cost of living.

Census bureau figures go to show that one-fifth of the population of the U. S. is found in 33 cities. Now someone will use the statement to support the claim that the movement from the farms to the cities is alarming.

The American Legion now has a membership of 65,900 in Illinois, an increase of 400 per cent in a few months' time. With such a membership the Legion has great possibilities for exerting a beneficial influence for good citizenship.

Certainly business men will readily co-operate in the plan to mark the Ocean. The wonder is that this task has not been done before. The trail means much for Jacksonville, bringing as it does a daily quota of tourists, and nothing should be overlooked which will add to their convenience.

If you don't think there is interest in the coming primary election just attend one of the country picnics or chicken fries. You will find county candidates there galore and they are all busy. Really this interest is worth while and if maintained on thru the general election will help to bring satisfactory results.

W. Jett Lauck, expert economist for the miners organization, has declared that recent award of $85,000,000 to the anthracite miners in wage increases should be followed by a reduction in price to the consumer.

This surprising statement is based upon the argument that the mine operators months ago added a dollar a ton to the price of coal to offset the possible increase in wages. Mr. Lauck figures that the increase was far in excess of the amount of the wage award. Nevertheless the public will believe in lower prices when the mine owners announce it. The chances for that reduction are mighty slim.

The more you consider Candidate Cox's proposition to tax the sales of "all going concerns from one to one and a half per cent," the less you will like it. If he means that every time a bill of goods is sold, this tax is to be tacked on it, by the time it gets around to the ultimate consumer, it will amount to anywhere from five to twenty per cent added to the selling price. The manufacturer would add the tax, so would the wholesaler, the broker, the commission man, and the retailer. It was this system that boosted the price of sugar.—St. Cloud (Minn.) Press.

WILL APPOINT PROPERTY OWNER'S COMMITTEE

It is understood that Mayor Crabtree will appoint a committee of East State street property owners to co-operate with the board of local improvements in all matters relating to the proposed pavement on that street. Because of various difficulties that confront contractors, it is possible that there may not be bidders for the work. It will be the function of the property owners' committee to interest contractors in the work and further, if the contract is let, to see to it that the right kind of a job is done. The idea of having property owners co-operate with the city authorities all thru the work is well worth while.

HARDING BELIEVES IN TEAM WORK

The Saturday Evening Post pays Senator Harding a fine compliment for the announcement that he will make Vice President Coolidge his chief adviser if elected. The article says it is a strong indication that the senator is not a believer in a one man government. It also breaks away from the ancient presidential habit of regarding the vice president as a constitutional but sinister inheritor of a dead man's shoes, a political poor relation whose sole claim to potential importance rests upon the chance that he may become the remainder of the administration.

Senator Harding's apparent intention to do everything in his power to elevate the dignity of the vice president is no small earnest of his good sense, good will and breadth of mind.

Every straightforward, clean cut determination of intention by presidential candidates, such as Senator Harding has made will be heartily welcomed by the great mass of voters and especially by men of independent thought who have now sworn allegiance to the banner of either political party.

The article goes on to say that much more of the same kind of action would be a good thing.

THE REAL CAUSE

One of the greatest factors in the high cost of living today is the lack of adequate transportation, directly attributable to the deplorable failure of the Democratic railroad administration to maintain the physical condition of the railroads. Mr. Cox, very wisely from his point of view, omitted to discuss that phase of the situation in his speech of acceptance. After paying a fulsome eulogy to the Federal railroad administration, he disposed of the question by remarking, "But all of this is water over the wheel."

It certainly is "water over the wheel" so far as setting back any of the huge losses the people have had to pay. The damage is being repaired as fast as possible, thanks to a constructive Republican transportation law, and to increased rates authorized under its provisions. But the people cannot forget the billions in added living costs and taxes they have been obliged to pay by jauntily remarking, "All this is water over the wheel."

MR. RUSSELL'S CANDIDACY

(From the Bloomington Pantagraph.)
In conformity with its policy of ignoring slates and seeking to select candidates in the primary September 15 solely on the basis of merit and capability, the Pantagraph is pleased to recommend to its readers the candidacy of Andrew Russell, of Jacksonville, for state auditor.

Mr. Russell is on the Lowden-Chicago Tribune-Sherman-McCormick-Brundage-Deneen slate, but this fact should not be counted against him any more than the support of the Thompson organization should be held against Frank L. Smith. Mr. Russell from the first was bitterly opposed to the plan of Governor Lowden and the Tribune to force a slate of candidates of their own choosing upon the people of Illinois and he was known to be a candidate for re-election as auditor long before the Lowden slate was announced. Andrew Russell never has been and never will be the creature of any organization or political boss and therefore is the type of public man that Illinois needs at the present time.

HOUSING IN SMALLER CITIES.

It is not alone the industrial centers of the country which are taking active steps to alleviate the shortage of dwelling houses. Corporations to finance home building have been organized in such towns as Dallas, Tex., which has built a number of houses selling from $3,900 to $4,700. The company builds a great variety of sizes and styles of houses, but most of its operations are confined to five and six-room dwellings. The stock in the company is owned by 200 of the leading business men of the city.

In Decatur the success of the Home Financing Company, backed by the business men of the town, has encouraged the stockholders to plan even wider operation in the future by increasing the gap between the first mortgage and the minimum down payment of 10 per cent.

The business men of Champaign, Ill., are contemplating the building of 200 homes for wage earners to be sold on such easy terms that the buyers will find it practically as cheap to become home owners as to remain renters. Other smaller manufacturing centers which have organized home building companies are Charlotte, Mich.; Carthage, Mo.; Dunkirk, N. Y.; Elmira, N. Y.; Goshen, Ind.; Lockport, N. Y.; Sheboygan, Wis.; Worcester, Mass.; Portsmouth, O.; Richmond, Va.; La Porte, Ind.; Niles, O.; Hoopston, Ill.; Crawfordville, Ind.

Rinpling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Mild September.
When fair September's at the gate, a lot of troubles pull their freight. "At last," we sigh, "we may expect a climate soothing and correct; so let the timber and there be sounded, the we still perspire; let joyful music echoes wake, e'en tho' we sizzle, fry and bake." September, month of queenly charm, proves a false alarm. She can be merrier than July, and August, too, and out half try. But we forget the breaks she's made, when she, in Autumn leaves arrayed, comes promising an early frost, and coolness, heedless of the cost. We're glad to take her at her word, and say she is a peach, a bird, for we're so sick of summer heat, with pavements melting in the street of torrid days and burning nights, and weeping wails of weary wights! September seems to herald Fall, and Fall's a boon to one and all, when there's a chill in every breeze, and we've a decent chance to freeze, and catch bad colds and have the flu and all the ills that ever grew. Our furnaces never heat so hot, and get our greatcoats out of soak, and ask the coal man if he'll wait six months for payment for his slate. September stirs up thoughts like this; what wonder if we're filled with bliss?

A PRICE INFLUENCE.

(From Chicago Drovers Journal)

The influence of the value of by-products on prices of live stock has been talked about a great deal, still is little understood. Recent declines in hides and wool have been a potent market influence, and we are indebted to Swift & Co., for the following figures. We have no way of knowing that they are exactly correct, but it is not difficult to figure close enough to know that they cannot be far wrong.

Comparing the weeks ending Aug. 9, 1919, and Aug. 7, 1920.

It is said that western and Colorado cattle at $11 per cwt. this year produced dressed beef at the same cost as steers of the same class that cost on foot $2.36 per cwt. live.

The decline in by-product values is equivalent to $2.13 per cwt., and the increase in handling charges amounts to $0.23 per cwt. Making a difference of $2.36 per cwt.

On lambs, those costing on foot $13.50 per cwt. this year, produced dressed carcasses at the same cost as those of the same class costing $17.96 per cwt. last year.

The difference here is: Decline in by-product values $4.36 per cwt. Increase in handling charges $0.10 per cwt. Making a total of $4.46 per cwt.

As compared with a year ago, hides have dropped from about 43c to 24c, and oleo oil from 28c to 13½c, according to market reports. And everybody knows there has been a big drop in wool.

The foregoing statements are supported by the following extract from the federal bureau of markets' weekly report, August 19, 1920: "The top today on natives was $12 and the bulk sold at $10.50 to $11.50, quality and condition of native offerings being very ordinary, with coarse husky stuff showing up in profusion. 'Cull natives are holding fairly steady at $7.50 to $8 mostly, but one not so surprising when the sharply lower values for pelts and offal than were current a year ago are duly taken into account. Indeed, when it is taken into consideration that 3½c per lb. decrease in the credit value of pelts and 7c per lb. decrease in the credit value of the offal from this time last year makes a $12.50 lamb cost as much in the carcass as a lamb costing $17 at this time last year, the depressed condition of the sheep and lamb market at present is to a considerable extent explained.' We are glad to pass this information along and hope that the packers will continue to put out their explanations of market changes, not only at times when the market is declining but also when it is advancing.

The packers are beginning to realize that it is a good business policy to give the producing public some real facts about their business, and farmers should meet them half way by studying and analyzing such statements as are presented from time to time.

Census bureau figures go to show that one-fifth of the population of the U. S. is found in 33 cities. Now someone will use the statement to support the claim that the movement from the farms to the cities is alarming.

The American Legion now has a membership of 65,000 in Illinois, an increase of 400 per cent in a few months' time. With such a membership the Legion has great possibilities for exerting a beneficial influence for good citizenship.

Certainly business men will readily co-operate in the plan to mark the Ocean to Ocean trail thru Jacksonville. The wonder is that this task has not been done before. The trail means much for Jacksonville, bringing as it does a daily quota of tourists, and nothing should be overlooked which will add to their convenience.

If you don't think there is interest in attending one of the country picnics or chicken fries. You will find county candidates there, galore and they are all busy.

Really this interest is worth while and if maintained on thru the general election will help to bring satisfactory results.

W. Jett Lauck, expert economist for the miners organization, has declared that recent award of $85,000,000 to the anthracite miners in wage increases should be followed by a reduction in price to the consumer.

This surprising statement is based upon the argument that the mine operators months ago added a dollar a ton to the price of coal to offset the possible increase in wages. Mr. Lauck figures that the increase was far in excess of the amount of the wage award. Nevertheless the public will believe in lower prices when the mine owners announce it. The chances for that reduction are mighty slim.

The more you consider Candidate Cox's proposition to tax the sales of "all going concerns from one to one and a half per cent,"

the less you will like it. If he means that every time a bill of goods is sold, this tax is to be tacked on it, by the time it gets around to the ultimate consumer, it will amount to anywhere from five to twenty per cent added to the selling price. The manufacturer would add the tax, so would the wholesaler, the broker, the commission man, and the retailer. It was this system that boosted the price of sugar.—St. Cloud (Minn.) Press.

WILL APPOINT PROPERTY OWNER'S COMMITTEE

It is understood that Mayor Crabtree will appoint a committee of East State street property owners to co-operate with the board of local improvements in all matters relating to the proposed pavement on that street. Because of various difficulties that confront contractors, it is possible that there may not be bidders for the work. It will be the function of the property owners' committee to interest contractors in the work and further, if the contract is let, to see to it that the right kind of a job is done. The idea of having property owners co-operate with the city authorities all thru the work is well worth while.

HARDING BELIEVES IN TEAM WORK

The Saturday Evening Post pays Senator Harding a fine compliment for the announcement that he will make Vice President Coolidge his chief advisor if elected. The article says it is a strong indication that the senator is not a believer in a one man government. It also breaks away from the ancient presidential habit of regarding the vice president as a constitutional but sinister inheritor of a dead man's shoes, a political poor relation whose sole claim to potential importance rests upon the chance that he may become the remainder of the administration.

Senator Harding's apparent intention to do everything in his power to elevate the dignity of the vice president is no small earnest of his good sense, good will and breadth of mind.

Every straightforward, clean cut determination of intention by presidential candidates, such as Senator Harding has made will be heartily welcomed by the great mass of voters and especially by men of independent thought who have now sworn allegiance to the banner of either political party.

The article goes on to say that much more of the same kind of action would be a good thing.

THE REAL CAUSE

One of the greatest factors in the high cost of living today is the lack of adequate transportation, directly attributable to the deplorable failure of the Democratic railroad administration to maintain the physical condition of the railroads. Mr. Cox, very wisely from his point of view, omitted to discuss that phase of the situation in his speech of acceptance. After paying a fulsome eulogy to the Federal railroad administration, he disposed of the question by remarking, "But all of this is water over the wheel."

It certainly is "water over the wheel" so far as getting back any of the huge losses the people have had to pay. The damage is being repaired as fast as possible, thanks to a constructive Republican transportation law, and to increased rates authorized under its provisions. But the people cannot forget the millions in additional living costs and taxes they have been obliged to pay by jauntily remarking, "All this is water over the wheel."

MR. RUSSELL'S CANDIDACY

(From the Bloomington Pantagraph.)

In conformity with its policy of ignoring slates and seeking to select candidates in the primary September 15 solely on the basis of merit and capability the Pantagraph is pleased to recommend to its readers the candidacy of Andrew Russell, of Jacksonville, for state auditor.

Mr. Russell is on the Lowden-Chicago Tribune-Sherman-McCormick-Brundage-Deneen slate but this fact should not be counted against him any more than the support of the Thompson organization should be held against Frank L. Smith. Mr. Russell from the first was bitterly opposed to the plan of Governor Lowden and the Tribune to force a slate of candidates of their own choosing upon the people of Illinois and he was known to be a candidate for re-election as auditor long before the Lowden slate was announced. Andrew Russell never has been and never will be the creature of any organization or political boss and therefore is the type of public man that Illinois needs at the present time.

HOUSING IN SMALLER CITIES.

It is not alone the industrial centers of the country which are taking active steps to alleviate the shortage of dwelling houses. Corporations to finance home building have been organized in such towns as Dallas, Tex., which has built a number of houses selling from $3,900 to $4,700. The company builds a great variety of sizes and styles of houses, but most of its operations are confined to five and six-room dwellings. The stock in the company is owned by 200 of the leading business men of the city.

In Decatur the success of the Home Financing Company, backed by the business men of the town, has encouraged the stockholders to plan even wider operation in the future by increasing the gap between the first mortgage and the minimum down payment of 10 per cent.

The business men of Champaign, Ill., are contemplating the building of 200 homes for wage earners to be sold on such easy terms that the buyers will find it practically as cheap to become home owners as to remain renters. Other smaller manufacturing centers which have organized home building companies are Charlotte, Mich.; Carthage, Mo.; Dunkirk, N. Y.; Elmira, N. Y.; Goshen, Ind.; Lockport, N. Y.; Sheboygan, Wis.; Worcester, Mass.; Portsmouth, O.; Richmond, Va.; La Porte, Ind.; Niles, O.; Hoopston, Ill.; Crawfordsville, Ind.

Rinpling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Mild September.
When fall September's at the gate, a lot of troubles pull their freight. "At last," we sigh, "we may expect a climate soothing and correct; so let the timber and there be sounded, the we still perspire; let joyful music echoes wake, e'en tho we sizzle, fry and bake." September, month of queenly charm, too often proves a false alarm. She can be hotter than July, and August, too, and out hard try. But we forget the breaks she's made, when she, in Autumn leaves arrayed, comes promising an early frost, and coolness, heedless of the cost. We're glad to take her at her word, and say she is a peach, a bird, for we're so sick of summer heat, with pavements melting in the street of torrid days and burning nights and weeping walls of weary wights! September seems to herald fall, and fall's a boon to one and all, when there's a chill in every breeze, and we've a decent chance to freeze, and catch bad colds and have the flu and all the ills that ever grew. Our furnaces we soon must stoke, and get our greatcoats out of oak and ask the coalman if he'll wait six months for payment for his slate. September stirs up thoughts like this; what wonder if we're filled with bliss?

A PRICE INFLUENCE.

(From Chicago Drovers Journal)

The influence of the value of by-products on prices of live stock has been talked about a great deal, still is little understood. Recent declines in hides and wool have been a potent market influence, and we are indebted to Swift & Co., for the following figures. We have no way of knowing that they are exactly correct, but it is not difficult to figure close enough to know that they cannot be far wrong.

Comparing the weeks ending Aug. 9, 1919, and Aug. 7, 1920. It is said that western and Colorado cattle at $11 per cwt. this year produced dressed beef at the same cost as steers of the same class that cost on foot $2.36 per cwt. live.

The decline in by-product values is equivalent to $2.13 per cwt., and the increase in handling charges amounts to $0.23 per cwt. Making a difference of $2.24 per cwt. live.

On lambs, those costing on foot $13.50 per cwt. this year, produced dressed carcasses at the same cost as those of the same class costing $17.96 per cwt. last year.

The difference here is: Decline in by product values $4.36 per cwt. Increase in handling charges $0.10 per cwt. Making a total of $4.46 per cwt.

As compared with a year ago, hides have dropped from about 43c to 24c, and oleo oil from 28c to 13½c, according to market reports. And everybody knows there has been a big drop in wool.

The foregoing statements are supported by the following extract from the federal bureau of markets' weekly report, August 19, 1920: "The top today on natives was $12 and the bulk sold at $10.50 to $11.50, quality and condition of native offerings being very ordinary, with coarse husky stuff showing up in profusion."

Cull natives are holding fairly steady at $7.50 to $8 mostly, a big discount from fat lambs, but one not so surprising when the sharply lower values for pelts and offal than were current a year ago are duly taken into account. Indeed, when it is taken into consideration that 3½c per lb. decrease in the credit value of pelts and 7c per lb. decrease in the credit value of the offal from this time last year, makes a $12.50 lamb cost as much in the carcass as a lamb costing $17 at this time last year, the depressed condition of the sheep and lamb market at present is to a considerable extent explained. We are glad to pass this information along and hope that the packers will continue to put out their explanations of market changes, not only at times when the market is declining but also when it is advancing.

The packers are beginning to realize that it is a good business policy to give the producing public some real facts about their business, and farmers should meet them half way by studying and analyzing such statements as are presented from time to time.

A Romantic, Cyclonic Comedy Drama

WILLIAM DESMOND

—IN—

"A Broadway Cowboy"

He was a matinee idol, beloved by the girls because he was so handsome and looked so heroic. Even a matinee idol will fail for a girl and he did—hard! To square himself with the one girl's chaperone, he told her he had known the damsel in Montana; he furthermore intimated that he had ridden bucking bronchos, killed Indians and everything. And then—O unkind Fate! He had to make good on his boasts! A riotous comedy feature, filled with thrills and the most astonishing surprises; one of the very greatest pictures of the year.

Rejoice Your Blood Pure

Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

For this purpose, no remedy can equal S.S.S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forests, it is purely vegetable, and contains no mineral substance.

Get a bottle of S.S.S. at your drug store today, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Adviser, S.S.S. Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Rejoice Your Blood Pure

Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

For this purpose, no remedy can equal S.S.S., the fine old blood purifier that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. Being made from the roots and herbs of the forests, it is purely vegetable, and contains no mineral substance.

Get a bottle of S.S.S. at your drug store today, and note how promptly it builds up the appetite and gives new strength and vitality. Write for free literature and medical advice to Chief Medical Adviser, 830 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unweelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

MOST NOVEL BOXING
ARENA IN COUNTRY

Seated Just Out of Benton Harbor and Will Be the Scene of the Fight Between Dempsey and Miske on Labor Day.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—The arena in which Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will risk his title against Billy Miske of St. Paul on Labor Day is perhaps the most novel boxing arena in the country. It was used for the first time last July 5 when Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, fought Charlie White of Chicago, and workmen are rushing plans to enlarge the structure so that it will seat approximately 20,000 persons.

Three tiers of seats accommodating 3,000 persons have been added around the entire arena, while bleacher seats will provide for 5,000 more. A quarter section of the arena has been removed and extended back fifty feet and this space will be used for bleacher seats. Prices will range from $50 to $30.

The arena, in a measure, resembles the famous Yale bowl, only instead of its seats being built from the level of the land up to a height of perhaps thirty feet, its ring and ringside seats are down in the hollow of the ground fifteen feet below the land level.

Its highest point, the rear row of the circular arena, is only five feet above the country's level. The arena is built of hard sand, wetted and rolled until it is almost baked as hard as concrete. Over this hard sand surface are the rows of seats, no seat being over two feet above the ground.

The center of the ring is 115 feet from the last row of seats. The various sections are fenced off with wire netting to prevent the crowd from rushing from the cheaper seats into the ringside locations.

The arena is located on the eastern outskirts of Benton Harbor and within a block of Dempsey's training camp. The champion is as full of fun as a kitten and he frequently donned a suit of overalls to the surprise of the workmen enlarging the arena and grabbing a spade or a hammer assisted them in their work.

DR. I. F. FREMMELE TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Member of State Hospital Staff
Heard in Interesting Talk on
Occupational Therapy Friday
Noon at Pacific Hotel.

At the regular luncheon of the Rotary club Friday noon at the Pacific hotel, Dr. I. F. Fremmele of Jacksonville State hospital was the principal speaker, his subject being "Occupational Therapy." This was not the first occasion upon which Rotarians have heard speakers from the hospital, but the interest in Dr. Fremmele's remarks was none the less keen.

Few people have any conception of the scope of the work now being conducted at the hospital along the line of occupational therapy unless they have visited the institution and thus gained first hand knowledge. There is now in process of construction on the hospital grounds a spacious building which is to be devoted to this particular line and the work will be considerably broadened upon the completion of this building.

Dr. Fremmele described in detail the methods now in use and told of the effect of the training upon the patient. The results obtained have been in some instances almost marvelous and altogether undreamed of a number of years ago. The speaker also told in a brief way of the daily routine which is carried out at the hospital. There everything is done by schedule, certain duties being given attention at regular hours of the day. The result is a smooth-running and efficient institution.

VETERAN ENGINEER DIES AT THROTTLE

A. E. DeFrates, Engineer of the Wabash for Quarter Century Expires Suddenly at Markham—Was Born and Reared Here.

A. E. "Emmerson" DeFrates, of Springfield, engineer on the Wabash railroad for over twenty five years, died at the throttle of his engine at Markham about 8:25 o'clock Friday evening.

The stricken man was brought to Jacksonville on the east bound Wabash passenger and Dr. Hahrgrove was called. He pronounced Mr. DeFrates dead upon his arrival.

Horace DeFrates, of this city, a brother of the deceased, was notified and had the remains taken to the Gillham Funeral Home and prepared for burial. Coroner Rose also was notified and will hold an inquest this afternoon at one o'clock.

Not much could be ascertained of the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. DeFrates last night. He was in charge of the engine on No. 72 west bound local thru Jacksonville Friday.

The train had a great deal of work to do in the local yards and did not leave Jacksonville until about 8 o'clock. Mr. DeFrates ate supper at the Wabash lunch room. He ate a hearty meal and seemed to be in the best of health and spirits and did not complain of feeling ill.

Fell From Cab.
When his train reached Markham it is supposed that it side tracked to allow the passage of the passenger train. According to information received by his relatives here he was suddenly stricken and fell out of the cab to the ground. It is probable that death was instantaneous.

Emmerson DeFrates as he was best known in Jacksonville, was the son of Albert and Jane DeFrates, 505 Sandusky street, and was born in this city, February 22, 1871. His early life was spent here where he was educated in the public schools.

When a young man he entered the employ of the Wabash railroad for a number of years and was in charge of the switch engine here. He then received a regular run and removed to Springfield.

Long Time Wabash Employee.
For over twenty five years he has been an engineer on this branch of the road and was one of the oldest and most valued employees of the road. He had repeated offers of a passenger run but preferred to remain on a freight run.

He was united in marriage about 26 years ago in this city to Miss Nettie Oliver, who survives together with the following children: Mrs. Leone Bryden, Wendell, Nettie and Albert DeFrates, all residing in Springfield.

He also leaves his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert DeFrates of this city; three brothers, George, of Springfield; Calvin, of Bloomington; Horace, of Jacksonville; two sisters Mrs. W. J. Brooks of Jacksonville and Mrs. Ole Gadis of Concord.

Mr. DeFrates was a member of Harmony Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M. of this city, of the Ben Hur and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which he had been president for the past two years. He was a member of the Methodist church.

A man of genial disposition Mr. DeFrates was a well known and popular with the officials of the road and his fellow employees. He was known in every station along the road between Springfield and Hannibal and Quincy, and numbered his friends by the score. To these, news of his death will be received with regret.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

A GLAD JOURNEY.

This morning Mitchell Zachary expected to start on the Wabash at 8:10 for Charlevoix, Michigan where his family have been for the past ten weeks. The train will travel all too slowly for Mitchell as he is devoted to his loved ones and dislikes to be away from them. He expects to remain for a vacation. His numerous friends wish him a pleasant and successful journey.

FINE COMEDY SEEN AT THE GRAND

Booth Tarkington's "Clarence" Staged by Competent Company.

Jacksonville is to have a very satisfaction theatrical season if one is to judge from the initial entertainment of the fall months before a large audience and the people present had no difficulty in understanding why this production has been termed the "reigning comedy success" in New York and Chicago.

Some of the people in the audience had seen "Clarence" at the Blackstone in Chicago and were ready last night to testify that the cast was the same, or just as clever.

"Clarence" is a Booth Tarkington comedy and is said to be the best of the productions of his somewhat prolific pen. From the very beginning until the final curtain, the interest of the audience was held and the fine, clean humor running thru all the lines and situations made the presentation memorable. The cast includes the well known names of Gregory Kelly, Robert Adams, Byron Beasley, Guy D'ennery, James T. Ford, Grace Filler, Ruth Gordon, Betty Murphy, Clara Blandick and Joe Wallace, and there was not a weak spot in the cast. For a real comedy it takes real actors and the people in "Clarence" as presented here met all the requirements.

The company is to open at the American theatre in St. Louis the first of the coming week Mr. Fischer, lessee and Manager Wheeler have promised a number of high class attractions for the coming months.

SCHOOL FOR BLIND TO OPEN TUESDAY

Announcement Made By Superintendent Woolston—Changes in Faculty of Institution.

The Illinois School for the Blind will be opened on next Tuesday, September 7th. Pupils from all parts of the state will arrive here on that day. Officers and teachers from the institution will meet blind pupils at different points in the state and special cars will carry the Chicago pupils to Jacksonville.

Miss Dorsey, the Social Service worker for the state school, has been in the field during the summer months working in the interest of new pupils and she reports an unusually large number for registration this year.

Change in the Faculty.
Miss Rebecca Scheibel, who for several years has been at the head of the voice department, has resigned to study during the year in Chicago. Miss Lorraine Dewese has been appointed to the position made vacant by Miss Scheibel's resignation. Miss Dewese is a graduate of the Illinois Conservatory of Music and has been a successful teacher for several years. She is a pupil of Helen Brown Read's. The School for the Blind is to be congratulated upon securing her services.

Mr. Thomas Dower, who has been an industrial teacher in the state school for many years, also resigned at the close of the last semester's work and Mr. Hobart Stephenson, an experienced teacher from Albuquerque, N. M., has been appointed to fill this position.

Material Improvements
During the summer months many improvements have been made in the school. A system of sewerage has been installed on the grounds which was greatly needed and is a splendid improvement. A number of hardwood floors have been laid and much carpentry work in general has been done. A force of painters has been employed during the entire vacation, and the school is in good, sanitary and comfortable condition for receiving pupils.

CHICAGO SPEAKERS EXTOLL THOMPSON

Major Jackson and Eugene Marshall Made Address for Len Small at Court House Friday Night—Stirred Hearers to Great Enthusiasm.

Extolling Mayor William Hale Thompson as the "greatest and purest American," Major Jackson and Eugene R. Marshall, of Chicago, spoke at the Court House Friday evening to a large crowd in behalf of the candidacy of Len Small for the Republican nomination for Governor, and Frank Smith for United States senator.

The speakers also boosted for the entire Thompson-Small ticket and predicted overwhelming success for it at the primary of September 15. So enthusiastic were the speakers in praising the virtues of Mayor Thompson that at times the audience was somewhat bewildered as to whether he was the candidate or whether it was Mr. Small they were talking for.

Prior to the meeting the members of Mallory Lodge No. 39, Knights of Pythias met at the office of Dr. Kenniebrew and escorted Major Jackson to the court house. Major Jackson is a prominent member of that order. After the singing of one verse of America the Rev. John W. Kirk offered prayer. Dr. A. H. Kenniebrew presided and introduced Eugene R. Marshall. In his opening remarks Mr. Marshall referred to the harmony existing between the white and colored races in Jacksonville.

The speaker referred to the loyalty of the Negro to the Democratic party. He then made an eloquent plea for the candidacy of Len Small of Kankakee, for governor.

In introducing Major Jackson, Dr. Kenniebrew referred to him as a national figure and the "ablest orator in America." Major Jackson paid his respects to the Democratic administration. He said that while Wilson kept us out of war, 400,000 American soldiers died of wounds and disease.

Major Jackson referred to Theodore Roosevelt as the last great friend of the American people.

"William Hale Thompson," said the speaker, "is the man who will deliver them from injustices they have received." The speaker urged his hearers to work and vote for Len Small who would stop rioting, lynching and all injustices to the colored race. At the close of the meeting Rev. J. H. Fisher pronounced the benediction and then the speakers met a number of the audience in an informal reception.

This office is in receipt of an unsigned communication complaining of shooting in South East street. The article does not say where the shooting occurred. However, it would seem that the proper place to make complaint is to the police department. DR. I. F. FREMMELE TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Heard in Interesting Talk on
Occupational Therapy Friday
Noon at Pacific Hotel.

At the regular luncheon of the Rotary club Friday noon at the Pacific hotel, Dr. I. F. Fremmel of Jacksonville State hospital was the principal speaker, his subject being "Occupational Therapy." This was not the first occasion upon which Rotarians have heard speakers from the hospital, but the interest in Dr. Fremmel's remarks was none the less keen.

Few people have any conception of the scope of the work now being conducted at the hospital along the line of occupational therapy unless they have visited the institution and thus gained first hand knowledge. There is now in process of construction on the hospital grounds a spacious building which is to be devoted to this particular line and the work will be considerably broadened upon the completion of this building.

Dr. Fremmel described in detail the methods now in use and told of the effect of the training upon the patient. The results obtained have been in some instances almost marvelous and altogether undreamed of a number of years ago. The speaker also told in a brief way of the daily routine which is carried out at the hospital. There everything is done by schedule, certain duties being given attention at regular hours of the day. The result is a smooth-running and efficient institution.

VETERAN ENGINEER DIES AT THROTTLE

A. E. DeFrates, Engineer of the Wabash for Quarter Century Expires Suddenly at Markham—Was Born and Reared Here.

A. E. "Emmerson" DeFrates, of Springfield, engineer on the Wabash railroad for over twenty five years, died at the throttle of his engine at Markham about 8:25 o'clock Friday evening. The stricken man was brought to Jacksonville on the east bound Wabash passenger and Dr. Hargrove was called. He pronounced Mr. DeFrates dead upon his arrival.

Horace DeFrates, of this city, a brother of the deceased, was notified and had the remains taken to the Gillham Funeral Home and prepared for burial. Coroner Rose also was notified and will hold an inquest this afternoon at one o'clock.

Not much could be ascertained of the circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. DeFrates last night. He was in charge of the engine on No. 72 west bound local thru Jacksonville Friday. The train had a great deal of work to do in the local yards and did not leave Jacksonville until about 8 o'clock. Mr. DeFrates ate supper at the Wabash lunch room. He ate a hearty meal and seemed to be in the best of health and spirits and did not complain of feeling ill.

Fell From Cab.
When his train reached Markham it is supposed that it side-tracked to allow the passage of the passenger train. According to information received by his relatives here he was suddenly stricken and fell out of the cab to the ground. It is probable that death was instantaneous.

Emmerson DeFrates as he was best known in Jacksonville, was the son of Albert and Jane DeFrates, 505 Sandusky street, and was born in this city, February 22, 1871. His early life was spent here where he was educated in the public schools.

When a young man he entered the employ of the Wabash railroad and for a number of years was in charge of the switch engine here. He then received a regular run and removed to Springfield.

Long Time Wabash Employee.
For over twenty five years he has been an engineer on this branch of the road and was one of the oldest and most valued employees of the road. He had repeated offers of a passenger run but preferred to remain on a freight run.

He was united in marriage about 26 years ago in this city to Miss Nettie Oliver, who survives together with the following children: Mrs. Leone Bryden, Wendell, Nettie and Albert DeFrates, all residing in Springfield.

He also leaves his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert DeFrates of this city; three brothers, George of Springfield, Calvin, of Bloomington; Horace, of Jacksonville; two sisters Mrs. W. J. Brooks of Jacksonville and Mrs. Ollie Gaddis of Concord.

Mr. DeFrates was a member of Harmony Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M., of this city, of the Ben Hur and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of which he had been president for the past two years. He was a member of the Methodist church.

A man of genial disposition Mr. DeFrates was deservedly popular with the officials of the road and his fellow employees. He was known in every station along the road between Springfield and Hannibal and Quincy, and numbered his friends by the score. To these, news of his death will be received with regret.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

FINE COMEDY SEEN AT THE GRAND

Booth Tarkington's "Clarence" Staged Staged by Competent Company.

Jacksonville is to have a very satisfaction theatrical season if one is to judge from the initial entertainment of the fall months "Clarence" was staged last night before a large audience and the people present had no difficulty in understanding why this production has been termed the "reigning comedy success" in New York and Chicago.

Some of the people in the audience had seen "Clarence" at the Blackstone in Chicago and were ready last night to testify that the cast was the same, or just as clever.

"Clarence" is a Booth Tarkington comedy and it is said to be the best of the productions of his somewhat prolific pen. From the very beginning until the final curtain, the interest of the audience was held and the fine, clean humor running thru all the lines and situations made the presentation memorable. The cast includes the well known names of Gregory Kelly, Robert Adams, Lynn Beasley, Guy D'Enerry, James T. Ford, Grace Filkins, Ruth Gordon, Betty Murphy, Clara Blandick and Joe Wallace, and there was not a weak spot in the cast. For a real comedy it takes real actors and the people in "Clarence" as presented here met all the requirements.

The company is to open at the American theatre in St. Louis the first of the coming week Mr. Tarkington, lessee and Manager Wheeler have promised a number of high class attractions for the coming months.

Material Improvements
During the summer months many improvements have been made in the school. A system of boulevard lights has been installed on the grounds which was greatly needed and is a splendid improvement. CHICAGO SPEAKERS EXTOLL THOMPSON

Major Jackson and Eugene Marshall Made Address for Len Small at Court House Friday Night—Stirred Hearers to Great Enthusiasm.

Extolling Mayor William Hale Thompson as the "greatest and purest American," Major Jackson and Eugene R. Marshall, of Chicago, spoke at the Court House Friday evening to a large crowd in behalf of the candidacy of Len Small for the Republican nomination for Governor, and Frank Smith for United States senator.

The speakers also boosted for the entire Thompson-Small ticket and predicted overwhelming success for it at the primary of September 15. So enthusiastic were the speakers in praising the virtues of Mayor Thompson that at times the audience was somewhat bewildered as to whether he was the candidate or whether it was Mr. Small they were talking for.

Prior to the meeting the members of Mallory Lodge No. 30, Knights of Pythias met at the office of Dr. Kennelbrew and escorted Major Jackson to the court house. Major Jackson is a prominent member of that order. After the singing of one verse of America the Rev. John W. Kirk offered prayer. Dr. A. H. Kennelbrew presided and introduced Eugene R. Marshall. In his opening remarks Mr. Marshall referred to the harmony existing between the white and colored races in Jacksonville.

The speaker referred to the loyalty of the Negro to the Democratic party. He then made an eloquent plea for the candidacy of Len Small of Kankakee, for governor.

In introducing Major Jackson, Dr. Kennelbrew referred to him as a national figure and the "ablest orator in America." Major Jackson paid his respects to the Democratic administration. He said that while Wilson kept us out of war, 400,000 American soldiers died of wounds and disease.

Major Jackson referred to Theodore Roosevelt as the last great friend of the American people.

"William Hale Thompson," said the speaker, "is the man who will deliver them from injustices they have received." The speaker urged his hearers to work and vote for Len Small who would stop rioting, lynching and all injustices to the colored race.

At the close of the meeting Rev. J. H. Fisher pronounced the benediction and then the speakers met a number of the audience in an informal reception.
